

Hip Hop Slam for Teachers

Dynamics of Rank and Power

Engaging "Star Disturbers"

Youth Leadership in your Classroom

Follow the link for full descriptions and to register!

Want to learn more about developing effective classroom strategies that truly engage your students?

Summer trainings at Process Work Institute are here for you!

.5 CEU for ½ day and 1 CEU for Full Day

Process Work Institute, 2049 NW Hoyt, Portland

July 18th and 25th, 2019

Morning and Afternoon Sessions:

9:30am-1pm & 2-5:30pm

Full day Early Bird Registration $275 until June 15th, thereafter $300

Half Day Early Bird Registration $150 until June 15th, thereafter $175.

About Your Trainers

Dawn Menken, Ph.D., is a conflict resolution educator, counselor, facilitator, and workshop presenter. She is a senior faculty member in the graduate program at the Process Work Institute in Portland, Oregon and was co-creator of its masters programs, serving as academic dean for ten years. She is the creator of Teens Rise Up (TRU), a cutting edge program that empowers and educates young people to step into their leadership, engage in honest dialogue, and co-create a more welcoming school community. She is the author of the award winning book, Raising Parents Raising Kids: Hands on Wisdom for the Next Generation. A dynamic teacher with a sharp mind and playful spirit, Dawn enjoys working with people from all cultures and backgrounds. For more information see her website: www.dawnmenken.com

Shannon McClure, is a licensed youth and adult educator, currently acting as a school coach with the Regional Arts and Culture Council and through their own consulting firm called Our Turn. They have worked as a classroom teacher, art teacher, and assistant principal in Portland Public schools, focusing on leadership for Racial and Gender Equity and Transformative Justice. They also have experience working with artists and activists in our community that seek to engage with youth. Advocacy is a passion, and frequently collaborate with organizations in Portland that offer experiential learning and support services to LGBTQ youth and marginalized populations. They reside in North Portland with their son who is a Jefferson High School student. In their free time, Shannon can be found in their ceramics studio throwing on the wheel or out on muddy Oregon trails. www.ourturnpdx.com

